SURPRISING DEMOCRATIC GAINS RECORDED IN TUESDAY'S ELECTION.

A General Slump From Previous Republican Votes and a Corresponding Gain for the Democrats.

NEBRASKA WENT SAFELY FOR FUSION.

Kentucky, Virginia and Maryland Are Democratic, While Republican Majorities in Iowa and Massachusetts
Have Been Greatly Reduced.

The elections held on Tuesday resulted in what is practically a Democratic landslide. After the large McKinley majorities of last year the figures are surprising even to the Democrats.

Kentucky, which in 1895 and 1896 went Republican, has fallen in line again with Democracy by a majority estimated at over 15,000.

Maryland is safely Democratic and Senator Gorman will be re-elected United States Senator.

Virginia went overwhelmingly Democratic, both on the State and legislative tickets. Senator John W. Daniel will easily succeed himself. The majority in that State is easily over 50,000.

Nebraska, after one of the hardest contests on record in that State, has elected the fusion ticket by a majority placed at 11,000.

While Iowa's vote shows Republican success the Democratic gain was distinct and significant. The net gain is estimated at 40,000.

In Massachusetts there was a striking slump in the Republican vote—the plurality of Gov. Wolcott of last year, 158,300, being reduced to about 90,000.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 3.—Additional precinct returns from the State today did not change the figures given last night, indicating a fusion plurality exceeding that of 1896, which was about 11,000. At fusion headquarters the same claim as last night of a plurality of from 20,000 to 25,000 was maintained. Secretary Blaser of the Republican committee would not concede this, or even admit defeat. Many of the leading Republican workers, however, accepted the returns at hand as a certain indication of the defeat of Post (Rep.) for Supreme Judge and the balance of the State ticket.

A seeming inconsistency in figures sent out from Lincoln and those from elsewhere in the State is explained by the difference in comparisons made. Gov. Holcomb last year ran far ahead of his ticket. Returns sent last night after the Lincoln fusion ticket were the fusion vote of this year with the Holcomb vote of last year, indicating a Republican gain, when by comparing with the average fusion vote of last year a fusion gain is shown for this year.

The Republicans of this (Lincoln) county elect their entire ticket by slightly reduced pluralities, except Woods for Register of Deeds.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 3.—Two hundred and fifty-six precincts heard from up to noon today give Post 13,891; Sullivan, 12,653. Same precincts last year gave McCall 26,296; Holcomb, 20,688; net Republican gain of 703.

CARD FROM MR. BRYAN.

He Sees Encouragement for Silver in the Result.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 3.—Mr. Bryan today gave the following statement to the Associated Press:

The returns are so incomplete that it is impossible to discuss yesterday's election in detail. The Republicans everywhere endorsed the Republican Administration, and in view of losses sustained by them in almost every State, it would seem that the Republican policies are not being indorsed at the polls. The sentiment in favor of the Chicago platform shows a healthy growth throughout the country. Perhaps our opponents will now admit that silver is not dead. The attempt to secure international bimetalism has proved a failure, and it is now more apparent than ever that the people of the United States must legislate for themselves on the financial question. Free and unlimited coinage at 16 to 1 is nearer now than it was a year ago. High tariff upon a gold basis has disappointed those Republicans who looked to it for relief. Taken as a whole, the returns are very encouraging. I think I voice the sentiments of Democrats, Populists and silver Republicans when I say that the fight will be

SHAW'S PLURALITY 20,000.

The Republican Chairman Contends It Will Reach Thirty Thousand.

DES MOINES, Mo., Nov. 3.—Returns were slow in reaching the headquarters of the State Central Committee today. Chairman McMillen of the Republican committee contends that Shaw's plurality will reach more than 20,000. Reports received from fifty counties give Shaw a plurality of 20,250, and "What brought these sad disasters Upon the G. O. P.?" They sighed, the party's masters, Together, dolefully.

They sighed and could not utter Another sentence more, But only stand and mutter Their sadness o'er and o'er.

HE SELLS DRESS PATTERNS.

Swindler Getting Money From Credulous Women by Offering Bargains.

A man whose identity has not been revealed to the police is reaping a Klondike harvest by means of a dress goods swindle. One of his victims is Mrs. Robert A. Hollowell of 510 Kansas street. Tuesday morning the swindler called on Mrs. Hollowell and exhibited a large array of costly dress goods samples. He was a peripatetic bargain counter, offering choice of patterns—some of them really worth from $20 to $30 for $2. Just to advertise his employees, he said, naming a well-known house. Half of the money was to be paid down, the balance on delivery of the goods.

Mrs. Hollowell selected a dress pattern. The "agent" went away, promising that the goods would be delivered within two days. Mrs. Hollowell became suspicious. She went to the firm the fellow claimed to represent and told of her "bargain." She was informed that no such "agents" were employed by the house. Then Mrs. Hollowell reported her experience to Chief Desmond at the Four Courts.

MCKINLEY AT PITTSBURG.

Guest of Honor on Founders' Day at the Exposition.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 3.—The train bearing President McKinley and party arrived at the Union Station at 11:15 o'clock this morning. The arrival of the train was signalled by a salute of forty-five guns fired by a detail of Battery B. N. G. P. The Presidential party was escorted to carriages and headed by the Second Brigade of the National Guard, under command of Gen. John A. Wylie, were escorted to the residence of W. N. Frew in the East End. All along the route the President was greeted with cheers, which he acknowledged by frequently removing his hat.

Mrs. McKinley and the ladies in the party remained in the train, which was taken to Shady-side, where they were met by Mrs. Robert Pitcairn, whose guests they were at luncheon.

The President is to be the guest of honor at the Founders' Day at the Exposition.

ELLIOTT HASN'T COME BACK.

R. W. Richardson Succeeds Him as the Omaha Exposition Agent.

Nothing has been heard by the officers of the American Exchange and the Boatman's banks of William Elliott, late Missouri Commissioner for the Transmississippi Exposition at Omaha.

Elliott realized $25 on two forged drafts and disappeared from the city Wednesday of last week. His acquaintances, and he had made many in St. Louis, thought he would surely return to the city and explain how the checks came into his possession. But Elliott has never come back.

When the forged checks turned up in Omaha the Exposition managers removed Elliott and have commissioned Hon. R. W. Richardson to represent the enterprise in St. Louis. Mr. Richardson is highly commended by leading citizens of the Nebraska metropolis, where he has resided for many years.

The managers of the Exposition are distressed that the people of Missouri shall be supplied of the magnitude and scope of the enterprise, which is not a local affair but one designed to display the resources and industries of every State in the Transmississippi region, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and other States have recognized this fact, and are making preparations for putting up State buildings and for collecting extensive and varied exhibits of their products and manufactures.

Mr. Richardson will come to St. Louis in a few days prepared to represent the Department of Exhibits and the Department of Promotion. He will be at the Plankers'.

WERE SCALDED TO DEATH.

Two Trainmen Met Death in an Alabama Wreck.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 3.—Through freight No. 55 on the Kansas City, Memphis & Birmingham Railroad was derailed at Carbon Hill, forty miles west of Birmingham, yesterday afternoon. The engine left the track and half buried itself in an embankment. Engineer John Snapp and Pumper R. B. Martin, who were on the engine, were scalded to death. Fireman Jim Walters was scalded, but may recover. Martin cried piteously for the impossible privilege of kissing his mother, living at Amory, Miss., and he was slowly steamed to death. Every particle of his outer skin left his body. Snapp endured tortures for several hours.

ANOTHER CABLE CAR VICTIM.

Expected Death of a Woman Who Was Injured Monday.

A report to the police states that Mrs. Dora Nussmann, age 44, living at 2108 Salisbury street, will probably die from injuries received Monday.

On that day she alighted from a cable car in front of 1324 South Broadway. The signal to go ahead was sounded too soon, it is said, and Mrs. Nussmann was knocked over by the trailer, which struck her shoulder.

She was taken into a bakery near by and a wound on her face was dressed.

It was thought at the time that this and a few bruises were her only injuries.

Tuesday night, however, she complained of great pain and Wednesday morning a physician diagnosed internal injuries that will probably prove fatal.

MAY SEE HIS CHILD NOW.

Modified Decree in Thompson's Divorce Case and Less Alimony.

A modified decree was entered Wednesday in the divorce case of Madge A. Thompson against William S. Thompson, March 19, 1897. She was given the custody of her little girl, Madge Elizabeth. The husband was ordered to pay $100 a month alimony.

The modified decree is by agreement. The mother still retains the control and custody of the child, but the father is allowed to see her on the 10th and 25th day of every month. Instead of $100 a month he is only required to pay $75 a month, in addition to a lump sum of $500 in satisfaction of all back alimony, due since the granting of the divorce.

THE WEATHER FORECAST.

FAIR AND WARMER.

For St. Louis and vicinity—Fair Wednesday night and Thursday; warmer Wednesday night and Thursday.

For Missouri and Illinois—Fair and warmer Wednesday night and Thursday.

Rains continued from the Upper Ohio Valley and Lower Lake Region eastward. Clear weather prevailed elsewhere, except in Montana, where it is snowing.

The temperatures have fallen in the East and risen considerably in the West.

Heavy frosts occurred as far south as Northern Louisiana and Central Mississippi, and light frost reached the Gulf of Mobile.

DEMOCRATS SEEM TO HAVE WON THE LEGISLATURE IN OHIO.

The Indications Are That Hanna Has Failed to Insure His Re-election to the United States Senate.

REPUBLICANS ELECT THE GOVERNOR.

They Also Claim That They Will Have a Majority of Two on Joint Ballot in the Legislature—State Committee Predictions.

The Democrats concede the election of Bushnell (Rep.) for Governor in Ohio. They claim that the Legislature will be Democratic and prevent the election of Hanna to the United States Senate.

The Republican Committee Chairman claims a majority on joint ballot of two, and Hanna puts it at three.

Bushnell's plurality may be 5,000 to 12,000.

The slump in the Republican vote in the State will probably foot up over 50,000.

In Hamilton County alone, the Democratic gain was nearly 25,000.

In Cuyahoga County, Hanna's home, the legislative ticket, Hanna's hope, fell off 17,000.

Granting that the Republicans have a majority in the Legislature, Hanna's election to the Senate will still be doubtful, as the Republicans chosen on the fusion ticket in Cincinnati will not vote for him.

President McKinley claims to be well pleased with the result, and professes to see in it an expression of "Republican fealty."

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 3. 2 p. m.—This afternoon the Democratic State Committee no longer claims the election of their State ticket, but announce that their majority in the Legislature on joint ballot will not be less than six, and may possibly be nine, as predicted earlier in the day by Chairman McConville. Chairman Nash this afternoon states that the Republican plurality on the State ticket will be from 12,000 to 15,000 and that the Republicans will have at least three majority in the Legislature on joint ballot for Senator. Among the doubtful ones has been Delaware County, which reported this afternoon the election of the Republican representatives by twenty-six plurality. Chairman Nash announced that the Legislature would stand 75 Republicans and 75 Democrats.

The Evening Dispatch (Independent), which has advised from all close counties to-day, has a special confirming the election of the Republican Representative in Delaware County, and it has changed its tables so as to give the Republicans a majority over all of two on joint ballot in the Legislature, and making that body stand seventy-four Republicans and seventy-one Democrats. The Republicans claim the House stands fifty-eight to fifty-one. There is no change in the Senate, which stands nineteen Democrats to seventeen Republicans, on the estimates of the latter.

The Democratic State Committee this afternoon gave out the following:

We have carried the following Senatorial Districts: Williams District, 2; Lucas, 3; Miami, 1; Butler, 1; Ottawa, 1; Seneca, 1; Marion, 1; Licking, 2; Knox, 1; Tuscarawas, 1; Hamilton, 4; Franklin, 2. Total, 29. We have carried the following counties sure for the Legislature: Franklin, 2; Hamilton, 10; Lucas, 2; Summit, 2; Adams and Pike, 1; Allen, Ashland, Auglaize, Brown, Butler, Clermont, Coshocton, Crawford, Darke, Defiance, Delaware, Fairfield, Hardin, Henry, Hocking, Vinton, Knox, Licking, Logan, Marion and Morrow, Mercer, Monroe, Ottawa, Paulding, Perry, Pickaway, Putnam, Sandusky, Shelby, Tuscarawas, Van Wert, Wayne, Williamswood, Wyandotte, one each. Total, 51. The following counties are in doubt: Belmont, Erie, Guernsey, Madison, Morgan, Muskingum, Noble, Preble, Stark, Union, one each; Cuyahoga, nine; Mahoning, two. Total, 21.

On these claims the Democrats would have 71 on joint ballot, 73 being necessary for a choice of United States Senator. Of the twenty-one members in doubt, the Democrats claim they will secure a majority.

When the Democratic State Committee put Cuyahoga County, the home of Senator Hanna, in the doubtful list, special efforts were made by the Republicans to get the next highest was for prosecuting attor-

HANNA CLAIMS HIS ELECTION.

Believes He Will Have a Majority of Three on Joint Ballot.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 3.—M. A. Hanna today dictated and signed the following telegram:

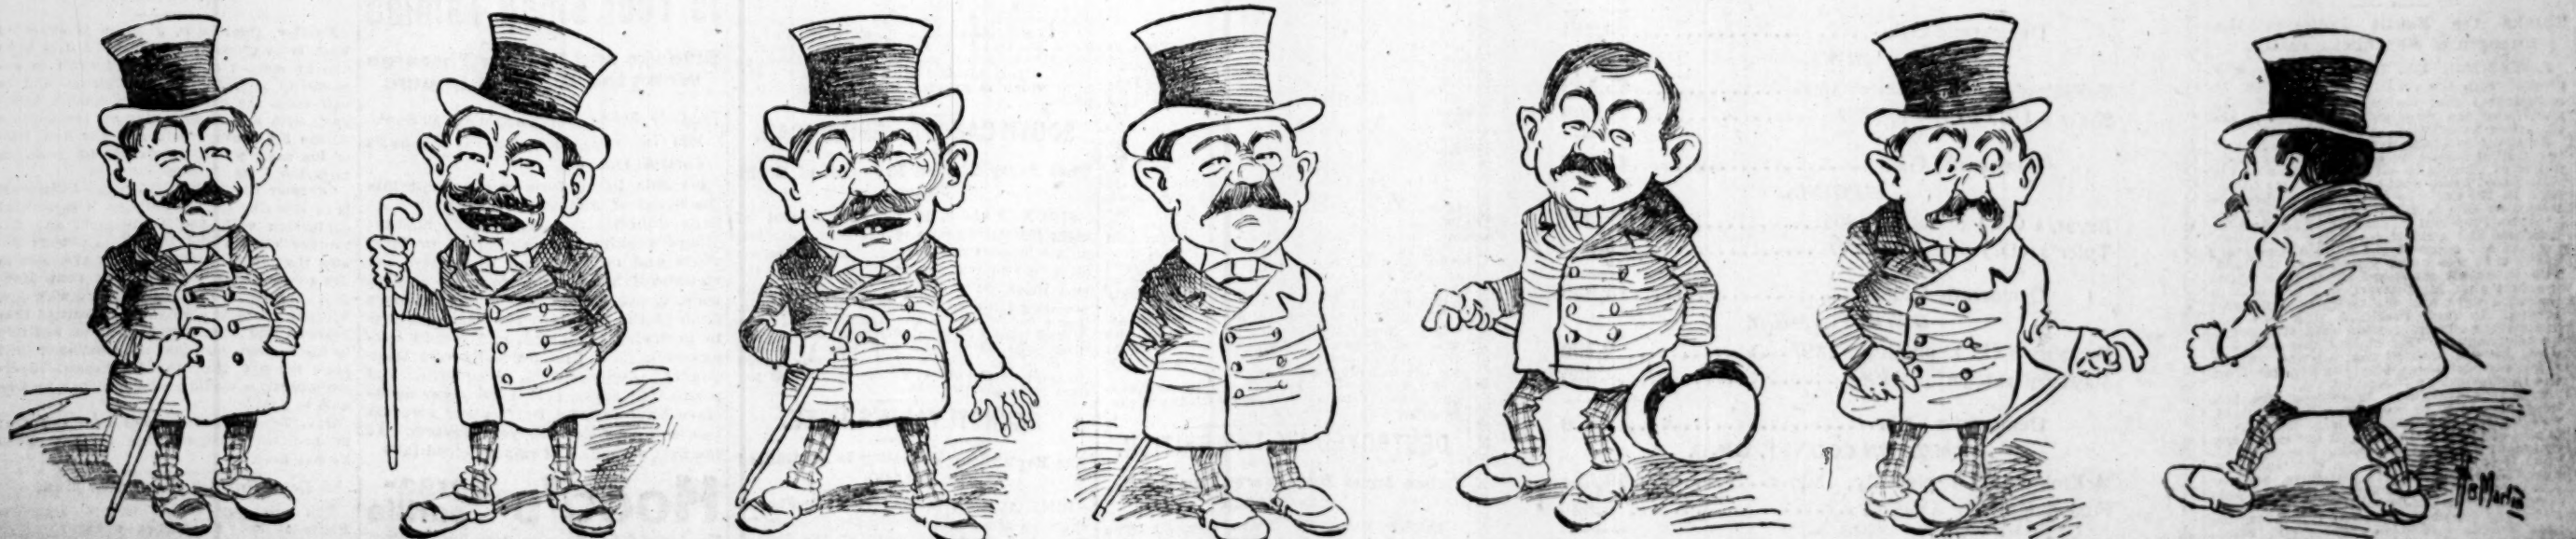

Cleveland, O., Nov. 3.—To Melville E. Stone, General Manager the Associated Press: From returns which are authentic and reliable I claim the Republicans have a majority of three on joint ballot, outside of Hamilton County.

HAMILTON COUNTY TURNS.

A Change of 25,000 Votes to the Democratic Column.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 3.—The total vote cast yesterday in Hamilton County was 51,172. Of this 52,504 votes were in Cincinnati and 14,672 in the county exclusive of Cincinnati. The only candidate elected on the straight Republican ticket was County Infirmity Director for whom the county outside of Cincinnati has the right to vote. The average majorities of the fusion Representatives was 2,673, for the ten fusion Representatives the average was 2,223. The highest majority on the fusion ticket for county offices was that for Board of Control, 5,890; were made by the Republicans to get the next highest was for prosecuting attorney, $250. Four of the seven county officers elected to the Democratic fusion ticket, where tickets are independent Republicans, and one Senator and four Representatives are also independent Republicans.

Hamilton County gave McKinley nearly 50,000 plurality in 1896. Yesterday's ballots show a change of about 25,000 votes to the Democrats.

CUYAHOGA COUNTY.

Bushnell's Plurality Claimed to Be About 5,000.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 3.—The Plain Dealer this morning gives Bushnell a plurality of 4,533 in this (Cuyahoga) county, and says he will have a plurality not to exceed 10,000 in the State. It is conceded that the entire Republican legislative ticket for this district, as well as the Republican county ticket, is elected by small pluralities. The falling off in the Republican vote may foot up 17,000.

PARTISAN NEWSPAPER CLAIMS.

The Enquirer and Tribune Each Announce the Success of Its Candidates.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 3.—The Enquirer (Dem.) does not concede the election of either Bushnell or the Republican Legislature. It charges manipulation of the returns by the Republicans for the purpose of assisting in what it calls "dirty work" in close counties. Its claim for the Legislature being Democratic is based on the election of the Democratic representatives in Lucas County (Toledo) and on the election of nine of the twelve in Cuyahoga.

On the other hand, the Commercial Tribune (Rep.) claims Bushnell's election by 20,000, and that the Legislature is Republican. Neither paper publishes specifics of what counts are claimed for the Legislature.

NOT FOR HANNA.

Fusionists Cannot Be Counted on to Vote for Him.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 3.—Allen O. Myers of Democratic State headquarters says: "Not one of the fusion Cincinnati ticket will vote for Hanna."

A Republican says two of the Republican Representatives elected will not vote for Hanna. He can be elected without them if the Republicans have 74 on joint ballot as now claimed.

MCLEAN'S CONCLUSION.

Says an Honest Return Means a Democratic Victory.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 3.—The following statement of the situation in Ohio has been made by Mr. J. R. McLean, upon request of the Associated Press:

Cincinnati, Nov. 3.—McLean E. Stone, the Cincinnati Democrat, has elected the State and legislative ticket. An honest return will show it.

MCKINLEY SAYS HE IS PLEASED.

Thanks the Result Indicates the Strength of Republican Fealty.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 3.—"I am well pleased with the result of the election, as it indicates that fealty to the Republican party and the principles it represents are as strong as ever."

So spoke William McKinley, President of the United States, in the private car Mayflower at Canton to a representative of the Associated Press about a clock this morning. In the car was placed a long-distance telephone and a telegraph operator and here the President, accompanied by Senator Burrows and Private Secretary J. A. Porter, sat and received the news of the great battle that was being waged over the land. The President made no effort to disguise the fact that his interest was centered in the Ohio fight and the welfare of Senator Hanna. In fact, President McKinley was in constant communication with Mr. Hanna by telephone up to 1 o'clock this morning when he was assured that all was well by a message telegraphed to the Senator from the Union Club at Cleveland.

President McKinley, in spite of the late hour at which he went to bed last night, was up betimes this morning, anxious to obtain election news. He did not make any comment on the situation, however, beyond that quoted above, but chatted pleasantly about his visit to Pittsburgh, and expressed himself as pleased with being able to be present at the Founders' Day exercises, Secretary Porter said to the representative of the Associated Press: "This is a peculiar election all around. You see there are so many local issues in the different States," said Mr. Porter, "that the national

UNCLE HENRY ISN'T WORRIED.

Bears Disaster to His Party With Heroic Equanimity.

Mayor Ziegenhain was not one of those who stayed up late Tuesday night to watch the election returns, and he didn't look Wednesday as if he had lost any sleep over the results.

"What do you think about yesterday's election?" said a Post-Dispatch reporter to the Mayor.

"I don't know," he shrugged his shoulders. "But isn't this an ideal day?"

"Did the result in New York surprise you?"

"Not a bit. You see, those New Yorkers had a spasm a year or two ago and tried the Civic Federation. Yesterday's vote was the result of their experience with the reformers."

"And what do you think of Ohio?"

"O, pshaw! I'm not bothering about the election."

City Register Henry Beach said: "If it is true that Mark Hanna is beaten, I'm glad of it. These trust bosses are going to be the ruin of the Republican party unless they are turned down, and the sooner the better."

WITNESS OUGHTON APPEARS.

He Was Badly Wanted in the Case Against Charles De Pue.

William Oughton, the drollet witness in the Charles De Pue murder case, the one whose inclination to flee was stronger than his desire to testify, walked into Judge Fittcraft's court Wednesday and surrendered himself on the capias issued for him.

The case was then specially set for trial Dec. 13 and Oughton furnished a $500 bond for his appearance on that day.

But attorneys Noland and Yore, for the defense, say they have their doubts about the case being heard for a long time.

THE DEMOCRATIC LANDSLIDE TOLD IN TRUTHFUL FIGURES.

BANKERMAN IS OUT.

ONE OF THE POLICE COMMISSIONERS SENDS HIS RESIGNATION TO GOV. STEPHENS.

MUTTERINGS OF A SHAKE-UP.

He Was the Best Friend Maj. Harrigan Had on the Board and His Action Causes Gossip.

Police Commissioner James Bankerman has tendered his resignation to Gov. Stephens.

The resignation was received by the Governor Wednesday morning and it is said Mr. Bankerman's successor will be named at once.

The announcement of this resignation has once more started the talk of the reorganization of the Police Department. It is known that Mr. Bankerman was a warm friend and admirer of Chief Harrigan and always opposed the retirement of the Major.

It is said other of the Commissioners favor his retirement.

Already there is talk of Chief Harrigan's successor. Assistant Chief Kelly is working for the appointment, and Capt. William Young of the Third District and Capt. J. W. Campbell of the Sixth District are also anxious for the position.

Bankerman was appointed to the board by ex-Gov. Stone. He was held over by the Stephens administration.

ATTIC, WIFE AND LADDER.

Robert Flinger Tells in Court What He Believes He Saw Last Night.

Robert Flinger, 321 Morganford Road, was fined $15 by Justice Zimmerman Wednesday for assault upon Mrs. Dickson, of 3229 Morganford Road.

Mrs. Dickson was at the house of John Joplin. Flinger was another boarder.

The story told in court was that Flinger came home Tuesday night and threatened his wife. Later he went out for a walk and upon his return found the wife and his children gone.

He went next door to Joplin's and demanded admission, saying that his wife was concealed there.

He insisted that he watched Flinger enter her out an attic window and down a ladder.

Mrs. Dickson was at the door of the Joplin house when Flinger called and refused him admission. He struck her and was arrested for police commission.

Flinger reiterated in police court the story of the wife, the attic and the ladder. The occupants of Mr. Joplin's house said he was mistaken and exonerated Flinger.

THROWN FROM A STREET CAR.

Charles Wamhoff Roughly Handled by a Lindell Conductor.

Charles W. Wamhoff of 594 Franklin avenue swore out a police summons Wednesday for M. Rostus, a conductor on the Lindell Railway. The complaint alleges that on the night of Oct. 13 he boarded Rostus's car at Broadway and Washington avenue. When the car reached Jefferson avenue the conductor demanded his fare.

"I told him," said Wamhoff, "that I paid the fare while getting on the car down town. He insisted otherwise and again demanded payment. After refusing a second time he grabbed me by the arm and dragged me to the platform. Several passengers tried to help me but he managed to push them away. The car was going at full speed at the time and he deliberately pushed me off."

"Luckily, I landed on my feet and escaped injury. I have several witnesses who will testify to these facts. I am confident Rostus will receive the butt end of the law for his unwarranted conduct."

Mr. Wamhoff is well known in commercial circles. He is connected with the Wear-Bogger Dry Goods Co.

the estimates of the Republican committee are that the other forty-nine will not do as well. The plurality in this city for Beacom (Rep.) over Brown (Dem.) for State Treasurer was 70,817.

In 1896 the plurality for Haywood (Rep.) for State Treasurer was 74,548, in a total vote of 130,771. McKinley's plurality in 1896 was 113,120, in a total vote of 244,887.

A majority of 13,260 was given yesterday in favor of the city's indebtedness to the extent of $12,200,000.

VIRGINIA ALL ONE WAY.

Democrats Swept Everything and Will Elect a Senator.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 3.—It was all one way in Virginia. The Democrats elected Tyler for Governor and all the other State officers by over 60,000 majority. They carried the Legislature by two-thirds majority. They will elect John W. Daniel United States Senator.

RESULTS IN KANSAS.

A Large Falling Off in the Republican Majorities.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 3.—Complete returns from Topeka city and Shawnee County show the entire Republican county ticket elected by majorities ranging from 110 to 1,200.

Cook (Rep.) for Sheriff has 110 majority over Kopley (Fusion). The total vote cast was 9,600, an increase over the vote of two years ago of 50 per cent, but a falling off of nearly one-half from the vote at the presidential election a year ago. There is a large decrease in Republican majorities, which a year ago were from 2,500 to 3,200, and two years ago were from 2,500 to 3,200.

COLORADO IN DOUBT.

The Democratic-Populist Fusion Ticket Probably Successful.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 3.—Returns from the State are meager and the result is still in doubt. The News says that William H. Caldwell, Democratic and Populist candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court, is probably elected by 8,000 majority. The Republican ticket appears to have been elected by 2,000 majority. The entire Silver Republican ticket appears to have been elected by 2,000 majority. The entire Silver Republican ticket appears to have been elected by 2,000 majority.

The result in New York City may be regarded as a distinctly Tammany triumph. The Chicago platform was ignored in the contest. Heavily it is a purely local battle, in which the people indicated their desire for a change.

Nebraska and Kentucky the issues were of a national character and the results are a signal victory for national democracy. The people had an unhampered chance to show their wishes and as a consequence the Republican party has been down to defeat. The large increase in the fusion vote of Nebraska shows what will be accomplished there in 1900.

"But I look upon the Ohio election as particularly conclusive proof of the determination of the people to put down government by trust which has flourished as an industry under Mark Hanna. The presidential campaign promises more assurance of Democratic success than we have had lately."

Mr. Cook received telegrams during the day from the State and the city were held, but they contained no additional information to that received by the newspapers.

KENTUCKY BACK IN LINE.

The Democrats Victorious by a Large Majority.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 3.—Kentucky has redeemed herself from Republican rule. The Democratic majority at yesterday's election is probably 15,000. Louisville and Lexington, which voted for McKinley last year, have both Democratic again.

The Silver Republican ticket appears to have been elected by 2,000 majority. The entire Silver Republican ticket appears to have been elected by 2,000 majority.

SOUTH DAKOTA REPUBLICAN.

That Party Elected Five Out of Eight Judges.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 3.—Out of eight judicial circuits in the State, the Republicans elect five Judges. The Democrats elect one and the Populists win in the two Black Hills circuits. The Republican victories come as a surprise to the Republicans as well as to the Populists. In the Second circuit Judge Jones overcame a Populist majority of 1,100 and won by a majority of 700. A very light vote was polled throughout the State, not more than 50 per cent having been cast.

PENNSYLVANIA'S VOTE.

The Republican Plurality Is Estimated at 170,000.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 3.—Figures show an apparent plurality for Beacom for State Treasurer, the head of the Republican ticket, of 145,000, against Haywood's plurality of 174,864 in 1896. The indications are that McCauley, the Republican candi-

THE DEMOCRATS SWEEP CITY AND STATE

Van Wyck Elected Mayor by 87,000 Plurality and Parker for Judge Has Probably 75,000 in the State.

A DEMOCRATIC GAIN OF 340,000.

The Entire Tammany Ticket Won in the City—Low Led Tracy, Who Polled Fives Times the Number of Votes Cast for George.

Over 340,000 voters have changed from the Republican to the Democratic side in New York City and State, as shown by the vote cast Tuesday.

Van Wyck, Tammany Democrat, was elected Mayor of the city by a plurality of 87,000.

Parker, Democratic candidate for Chief Judge Court of Appeals, carried the State by 95,000 plurality. McKinley's plurality in 1896 was 268,000, and Black for Governor had 240,000.

Low led Tracy, who polled five times the number of votes cast for Henry George's son.

The unofficial vote of the city is:

Van Wyck.....	235,800
Low.....	149,873
Tracy.....	101,833
George.....	20,886
Gleason.....	521

Van Wyck's plurality..... 87,000

The new Mayor of New York pledges himself to conduct a clean administration, and declares that none but Democrats will be put on guard.

Never before in the city's history has a Tammany victory been so generally or so noisily celebrated.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The result of the first municipal election in the Greater New York completely reverses the conditions of 1896, when McKinley's plurality in the same territory was 66,865. The plurality of Van Wyck, Tammany candidate for Mayor, is about 87,000, and the entire ticket is elected with majorities ranging from 7,000 to 100,000. Coler's plurality over Fitch (Rep.) for Comptroller is over 100,000. Both Van Wyck and Coler were free silver advocates in 1896. Alton B. Parker (Dem.) for Judge of the State Court of Appeals carried Greater New York by 100,000, and his total plurality over Wallace (Rep.) below the Bronx River will not be less than 100,000, insuring his election and Democratic success in the State.

Such a rush to the polls has never been known except in presidential years. Rainy weather failed to dampen the enthusiasm. The registration was abnormal. The total of 667,256 was only 11,452 below that of 1896. Last year only 636 per cent failed to vote for President, and the estimated total vote this year of 528,000 shows that the falling off does not much exceed that of 1896.

The vote for Tracy, the Republican Mayor candidate, was divided by the candidacy of Seth Low upon a Citizens' ticket. Low was second and Tracy third in the contest. The George vote was inconsiderable. The death of his leader evidently dispirited his followers, and the thousands who voted for Tammany candidates. It is claimed that young George lost many votes through the failure of inspectors to affix his master to Young's tickets.

The unofficial vote for Mayor follows:

Van Wyck.....	235,800
Low.....	149,873
Tracy.....	101,833
George.....	20,886
Gleason.....	521

The vote for Van Wyck is about 42 per cent of the total vote cast, or less than 40 per cent of the total vote cast for Bryan in 1896 in the same territory.

The united vote for Low and Tracy shows 14,127 more than Van Wyck received. The Metropolitan district is a normally Democratic and the plurality for Van Wyck is a return to normal conditions in an election not influenced by national issues.

The indications are that with the exception possibly of the county of Albany, the thirty-five in New York, all the Tammany candidates are elected. Queens, Richmond, Albany and Dutchess are Democrats. The Citizens' Union and two Assemblies in New York City.

The present representation in the Assembly of the county of Albany is normally Republican and the plurality for Van Wyck is a return to normal conditions in an election not influenced by national issues.

The vote for Comptroller and President of the Council are practically the same as for Tracy except that Andrew F. Fitch, the Republican nominee for Comptroller, has run slightly ahead of the other candidates on the Republican ticket.

THE TOWN WENT WILD.

Never Before Was a Tammany Victory So Generally Celebrated.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—There was a hot time in the old town last night and no mistake. Tammany had won and Tammany celebrated. Nothing like it has been seen here. From City Hall to the Harlem river was a howling, shrieking mob. In the Bowery and on the East Side joy reigned supreme.

Rallies were wide open. "To hell with ye—the Rained law is repealed!" was the chorus reply when policemen tried to enforce the closing law. In the tenderloin the limit was off, also the sandwich. Neither sandwiches nor pies were served with drinks and these time-worn trappings were served for good. The result was a howling, shrieking mob. In the Bowery and on the East Side joy reigned supreme.

Next to the saloonkeepers' joy was the hilarious merrymaking indulged in by the women of the streets. All seemed to continue the election of Van Wyck to a return to a wide-open town and they went forth to express their satisfaction. All the public restaurants and cafes in which they are permitted range from the most respectable chandeliers bore evidence to the fact that the limit was off. The result was a howling, shrieking mob. In the Bowery and on the East Side joy reigned supreme.

HELD UP THE PASSENGERS.

Two Masked Robbers on a Wabash Train.

DARING DEED AT LITCHFIELD.

THE MEN WERE MASKED AND THREATENED TO KILL ALL WHO RESISTED.

GOT MONEY AND ONE WATCH.

The Bandits Were in a Hurry and Didn't Stop to Search Passengers. Many of Whom Concealed Their Valuables.

General Manager Ramsey of the Wabash Railroad received a telegram late Tuesday night from the company's agent at Litchfield, Ill., reporting a remarkable hold-up of passengers.

Train No. 2, known as the New York vestibule limited, which left St. Louis at 8:30, reached that place at 9:48 Tuesday night. As it was pulling out, two men with black masks over their faces, jumped on the front end of the chair car.

Before the train was well under way they threw the door open, walked into the car, and drawing revolvers pointed them in the faces of the passengers.

"We want your money and valuables," one of them said, "and we don't want any foolishness. The first one that resists will be shot dead."

There were fewer passengers than usual in the car, most of them women.

The robbers passed from seat to seat. The passengers handed over their money. No attempt was made to search any of them. Only one watch was obtained. As soon as the men entered the car several succeeded in dropping their timepieces under the seats without being seen. The men were in such a hurry that they simply took what was handed them.

Besides the watch they got about $30. When they reached the last seat one of them pulled the bell cord, and as the train slackened speed they escaped from the platform. The train was still inside the city limits. The two men ran east on Third street, tearing their masks off as they went and disappeared in the darkness.

The job was done so quickly that none of the train crew knew of the hold-up until the robbers were gone.

The train was backed to the station and the local authorities notified. They instituted search at once but discovered no trace of the robbers.

Manager Ramsey dispatched Detective McClure of the road's secret service to Litchfield for the first train on Wednesday morning. McClure and Chief of Police Felt of Litchfield are investigating the robbery.

Earlier in the evening E. T. Jarvis, a farmer of Reno, was held up on the Wabash south of the Litchfield depot, and robbed of $7 by two masked men. They are believed to be those who held up the train.

From Jarvis and the passengers good descriptions of the men have been obtained, and the officials of the road are confident that the bold robbers will be captured.

JAMES' CURIOSITY GRATIFIED.
Parading as a Tramp to Get Information, He Goes to the Work-House.

"I'm not a tramp. I've got money to burn, and will pay this fine just as soon as I can get word to my banker," declared James Callahan, who was fined $25 for idling by Judge Stevenson Wednesday.

Despite his reputation as a "Weary Wanderer" James insists that he is wealthy and is merely parading in the guise of a beggar for the purpose of discovering how justice is meted out in the work-house.

Robert Young, who also claims to have been victimized by the brokers, will assist in the prosecution of the prisoners.

THE GREAT BEAST LET LOOSE IN GOTHAM TO-DAY.

I am the Tammany Tiger,
With my wonderful lump of gall,
And I'm "in it" again this season,
Though they hit me hard last fall,
I am "in it" to stay forever,
Through many my style dislike,
And I flaunt the victorious banner
Of Tammany and Van Wyck.

With Tracy and Low and Gleason
And others who "also ran,"
I'll weep when I get a moment
To spare for my fellow man;
But now I'm internally busy,
Since I've made such a wonderful strike,
Advertising the fortune and glory
Of Tammany and Van Wyck.

Of Greater New York I am master;
Who knows but my present score
May land me, in 1900,
Safe at the White House door?
Oh, I am the warmest member
That ever came down the pike,
And I yell till I'm sick of shouting
For Tammany and Van Wyck.

NEW YORK STATE REDEEMED.
A Change of 240,000 Votes to the Democratic Side in One Year.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 3.—The completed returns from the State are coming in slowly during the early hours of the morning, and demonstrate that the Republican candidates of the past two years have been reversed, if not by giving as large a majority for the Democrats at least by changing something like 240,000 votes. Gov. Black's plurality in the State last year was over 200,000. John Palmer, the Republican Secretary of State, won the year previous by over 100,000. The indications are that these enormous pluralities have been swept away and a reverse plurality of between 30,000 and 50,000 is given.

The greatest surprise of the returns are the great gains made in the Assembly by the Democrats, many of them being in counties and districts where there was no expectation on the part of Democratic managers.

Winning Republicans explain these gains by attributing them to the heated municipal campaign and the trading of votes. The Democrats will still control the Assembly although by a largely decreased majority.

"But in the past year I have been so weak that I have had to return to the use of this grand remedy, and I am proud to say, with good result. I have used, but not abused, Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, and it certainly is a grand success."

"My wife was a short time ago taken with la grippe, and her physician, Dr. Kern of this city, asked if we had any good whiskey in the house. If so, to give her some at night. She had not slept for two nights. I gave her some Duffy's Malt. She went to sleep and slept for five hours. It is this that makes me feel that it is a grand success, and I shall be pleased to answer any inquiries."

PAPER CARRIER LOSES AN EAR.
Mule Falls on Jacob Adler and Kicks His Head.

Jacob Adler, age 33, living at 2324 1/2 De Kalb street, is minus an ear and has several wounds on his head.

He is a paper-carrier and every morning starts out in a little two-wheel cart drawn by a mule.

Wednesday he was passing the corner at De Kalb and Presidential at 6 o'clock, when the mule became frightened and ran.

A block further on the cart was overturned and Adler was thrown to the ground. The overturning of the cart threw the mule into the air, and he fell on Adler's head.

Passers-by rushed Adler before he was killed, and covered with blood and dust, he was taken to the South Side Dispensary.

There it was found that an ear had been torn off. The mule which was harnessed and stiches were taken in three or four scalp wounds. Then he was sent home.

Besides the watch they got about $30. When they reached the last seat one of them pulled the bell cord, and as the train slackened speed they escaped from the platform. The train was still inside the city limits.

WERE ARRESTED IN COURT.
Pauley and Hillman Indicted by the Grand-Jury for Fraud.

Edwin B. Pauley and Clarence Hillman were arrested Wednesday in the Court of Criminal Correction by Deputy Sheriff Langford on indictments returned by the Grand-Jury, charging them with fraud.

The prosecuting witness is John Guillians, 201 North Twelfth street. He is a partner in the clothing store of Pauley and Hillman, 107 Chestnut street. They employed Guillians several days ago, he alleges, as a watchman, and induced him to put up $30 cash and give a $20 note as a bond for faithful service. He says they failed to carry out their agreement, and three days ago he secured a warrant against them.

The agreement was drawn up and attested by Pauley.

Wednesday by the Grand-Jury, and when they appeared in the Court of Criminal Correction to answer a preliminary hearing they were arrested by the Deputy Sheriff. They are still in jail.

Robert Young, who also claims to have been victimized by the brokers, will assist in the prosecution of the prisoners.

CHASTISED HIS INAMORATA.

Miss Parkinson Severed Her Long Engagement.

SHE HAD LOVED THE PEDDLER.

NOW SHE WANTS HENRY POELING TO RESTORE THE RING HE HAD GIVEN HER.

JESSIE HIT HIM WITH A STONE.

A Wooing That Was Enlivened at Intervals by Incidents Quite Unusual in Such Cases.

No man can trifle with the affections of Miss Jessie Parkinson, beat her and wind up with stealing the ring he had given her as an evidence of his love, without being made to feel the strong arm of the law, if such prosecution can be brought about.

Miss Parkinson lives with her parents at 811 Bremer avenue.

Wednesday morning she applied for a warrant for larceny against Henry Poeling, a peddler living at 462 North Broadway.

MISS JESSIE PARKINSON.

whom she charged with all the offenses previously mentioned.

Miss Parkinson confesses to the age of 17, while that of her alleged recent lover is given as 28.

In telling her story she stated she had known Poeling since childhood, and that they had been lovers for about six years.

She was deeply in love with him, and Henry claimed to be just as fond of her. Notwithstanding this fact, she claims he was accustomed to vary his wooing by giving her an occasional beating, and often threatened to "smash her face" if she ventured to look at another man.

"Every time he beat me," said Miss Parkinson, "he would at once become penitent and beg my forgiveness, promising never to strike me again. I loved him so deeply that I readily forgave him. He said to keep these promises, though, and many a time the beating I got was his hands."

"Look here," she continued, exhibiting an ugly scar on her left hand. "That is where he stabbed me on an occasion about three years ago just because I danced with a friend."

Notwithstanding her past experience she claims she and Poeling became engaged to be married about two years ago. Shortly after their engagement he gave her a plain gold ring as a sign of his love. A few weeks later she in turn gave him a ring. Henry, who was sent up his wooing and also kept up the beatings, the latter occurring with alarming frequency. As before, she said, he seemed so sorry after he had struck her that she could not help forgiving him.

According to her story, affairs reached a climax last Sunday morning. She was at home, dressing for church, when Poeling came in. He at once began to abuse her and demanded the return of the ring he had given her. She refused to part with it and claims he took it from her by force and ran from the house.

The next morning he returned to her the ring she had given him. Later in the day he called on her and again started to abuse her. Angry words passed between them and when he left the house she followed him into the street and struck him in the side with a rock. Before leaving her, she claims, he refused to return the ring she says he took from her.

"It will be no use for Henry to ever ask me to forgive him again," said Miss Parkinson. "I am done with him now, forever. I am going to keep company with another young man who I know will treat me right. All my love for him is gone and when I think of all I have suffered at his hands my blood boils. It was only a short time ago Henry came to my house and pointed a revolver at me, saying he was going to kill me. My father came into the room just then and threatened to knock him down with a chair. If it had not been for that I think Henry would have carried out his threat."

"I am determined to have my ring back," she continued. "If I fail to get a warrant I will sue him for it, for he gave me the ring and it is mine."

When a Post-Dispatch reporter called at Poeling's residence Wednesday he was informed that Henry was away on a peddler wagon. His father vouchsafed the information that his son had never been engaged to Miss Parkinson.

It is said Poeling has signified his intention of applying for a warrant against Miss Parkinson for hitting him with a rock.

BODY FOUND IN A HUT.

Probable Murder Mystery at Valley Park.

VICTIM A WELL-DRESSED MAN.

DISCOVERY MADE BY RESIDENTS OF THE LITTLE TOWN WEDNESDAY MORNING.

THE AUTHORITIES NOTIFIED.

No Clue to the Identity of the Stranger and No Information Yet of How He Met His Death—No One Recognizes the Body.

The body of a young man, well dressed, was found in a deserted hut a mile from Valley Park Wednesday morning.

It was evident that he had been murdered.

Whether the death struggle took place in the hut, or whether the body was carried there after the fatal blow had been delivered, could not be learned.

The news of discovery was brought to St. Louis by trainmen of the Valley Park accommodation, which arrived at noon.

Conductor Tooley told a reporter for the Post-Dispatch that there was great excitement in the little village.

"From what I could learn," said he, "the young man" features bear evidence of refinement. His hands had not been accustomed to severe labor and he was evidently from the upper circles of life.

"He is believed to have been a St. Louisian."

The discovery, Mr. Tooley added, was made by young men of Valley Park, who were out hunting.

The authorities were at once notified.

FOUND DYING IN A MUDHOLE.

Starvation and Exposure Killed an Unknown Man.

DEATH WAS WELCOME TO HIM.

HE HAD HIDDEN BENEATH THE WILLOWS ALONG THE RIVER BANK.

EFFORTS TO RECOVER HIM.

Sick Stranger Uncarried by the Police in North St. Louis—Lying in a Cave in Mud and Water.

It is just such an episode as the illness and passing away of this unfortunate man that rob death of its terrors and makes the grave welcome.

This particular man will be buried within a day or two in Potter's Field. His name will never be known. If he ever had friends they cannot be otherwise than relieved to hear he is dead, when they know the circumstances of his last days, and they can't but agree that even a resting place in

UNKNOWN MAN DYING IN A MUDHOLE.

Potter's Field is by comparison often a privilege to a doubt on this theory.

This man was a German, of good education. Under certain conditions he would have passed as handsome. He was about 35 years old, ambitious and anxious to make a living with his own hands.

He died Tuesday evening in the City Hospital. He was too weak when taken there a few hours before to give any account of himself, to tell how he first encountered adversity and suffered cruel want; to tell how he fell ill and how he clung to life until his impoverished system could stand the light no longer.

The man was found by a couple of benchmen Tuesday afternoon, on the banks of the Mississippi about seven miles north of the foot of Olive street. The benchmen were attracted to the spot by his dying moans. They discovered him snuggled away in an artificial cave on the river bank.

He was lying on a pallet made of two or three meal sacks, an old coat and a pair of trousers.

The policeman took his charge to the Dispensary. Dr. E. F. Randall tried in vain to revive the man. The patient was then taken to the City Hospital, where he died at 8 o'clock without having regained consciousness. The body is now at the morgue, and will be buried by the city.

The man's only clothing was an old shirt, cheap jeans trousers and a ragged coat. There was nothing in his pockets to indicate who he was, where he came from, and how he had lain stretched in his mud-house on the river bank.

The pockets of the old trousers were empty. In the breast pocket of the coat was a copy of a Minneapolis paper dated Oct. 24 last, and a memorandum book. The crumpled was in German, and the memorandum of an educated man. On one page of the book was copied an advertisement of a Walnut street employment agency, offering positions to railroad laborers in South America. I shall try to see this man and ask him to let me go," was written under the advertisement.

There were several addresses in the book, among them that of a doctor on Pine street. But the evidence heard at the trial Wednesday did not substantiate Mamie Dean's story, and she was convicted of robbery.

MAMIE DEAN CONVICTED.

Colored Woman Found Guilty of Highway Robbery.

Mamie Dean, colored, was convicted by a jury in Judge Filmer's court Wednesday of highway robbery and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

She was charged with holding up Justice Brock Nov. 21, 1936, at Thirteenth and Locust streets and robbing him of $25.

After her arrest Brock's wife called on Mamie Dean in jail and the prisoner told her she had known her husband for a long time and that she borrowed the $25 from him.

Mrs. Brock then employed an attorney and filed an application for a divorce.

But the evidence heard at the trial Wednesday did not substantiate Mamie Dean's story, and she was convicted of robbery.

THE INQUEST WAS POSTPONED.

William Feldman's Friends Think He Was Murdered.

NOW BEING INVESTIGATED.

NOTE FOUND IN THE DEAD MAN'S POCKET DECLARED A FORGERY.

MAY BE THE WORK OF ROBBERS.

Feldman's Mother and Sisters Say He Had Money and Was Intending to Leave St. Louis for Colorado.

Cofoner Wait is undecided as to whether William Feldman's death was due to accident, suicide or murder. To enable him to investigate the case more fully he has postponed the inquest until Thursday morning to give the police and relatives an opportunity to hunt up more witnesses.

Feldman is the man whose mangled body was found lying on the railroad track in the Convent street yards Monday afternoon. It was at first stated that it was a case of suicide, but later developments threw a doubt on this theory.

When Feldman's body was found a note was discovered in one of the vest pockets addressed to Joe, in which the writer asked Joe to tell his mother he was dead. The note was signed "Schuman."

He died Tuesday evening in the City Hospital. His mother, sister and stepfather, who live at 733 Marion street, said positively that the handwriting was not that of William Feldman.

Feldman, they said, had formerly worked for a man named Schuman, who kept a second-hand store at Seventh and Gratiot streets. He quit work last Saturday, after having told his employer he was going to Colorado.

Monday afternoon he called at his mother's house and told her he was going to Colorado, and that his train would leave at 5 o'clock.

He had some money saved up, which he had with him when he left the house. There was none on the body when it was found, and this strengthens the suspicion that relatives that he was foully dealt with.

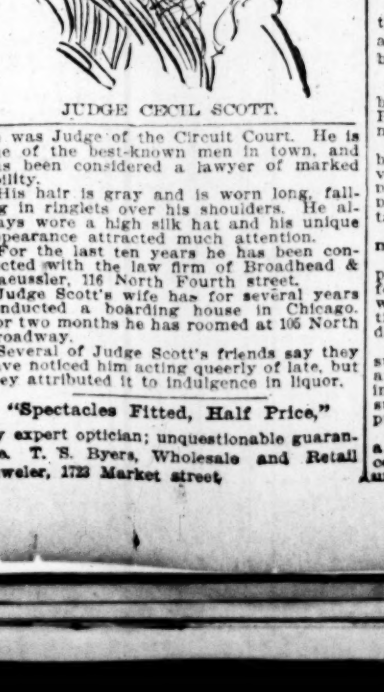

This evidence, in connection with the disputed authority of the body, led the coroner to postpone the inquest in the hope that new evidence might be obtained which will clear up the mystery.

Dr. Sutter Does Not Think the Old Lawyer Can Recover.

TREASURER'S BOOKS WANTED.

MRS. CADY SAYS MRS. COMSTOCK

PACKED THE LINDELL MEETING.

OLD MEMBERS ORDERED OUT.

Miss Bradford Demands Retraction and Everybody Is Real Mad at Everybody Else.

The books of the treasurer of the Women's Humane Society are to be audited Wednesday afternoon and some of the members are looking for startling developments.

The trouble in the ranks of the society is assuming formidable proportions, largely because of the charges that Miss Margaret W. Bradford, the secretary, refuses to turn over the funds derived from the society's booth at the Exposition, just closed.

The determination to go over the books is the result of a red hot meeting at the Lindell Hotel Tuesday afternoon.

After a stormy time the resignation of Mrs. Comstock, as treasurer, was demanded in a lengthy resolution, and Miss Bradford issued an ultimatum that Mrs. T. G. Comstock and Mrs. Conners would have to make a public retraction of statements made as to the disposition of the funds.

Mrs. Comstock, a daughter of a Post-Dispatch reporter, the dissenting members' version of the case, was heard by the daughter, Miss Bradford, Wednesday morning.

There were nineteen of us at yesterday's meeting," she said. "Prior to the meeting the Board of Directors met and elected Mrs. Ladd, Vice-President and Miss Mary Mitchell Treasurer. When we went to the rooms at the Lindell we found Mrs. Comstock had packed the meeting with women who had not attended the meetings in three years. We tried to put Mrs. Dr. Wilcox, Mrs. Butterfield and others out, but they wouldn't go."

"Every time they got up to speak I told them to get out, but they wouldn't mind me. My daughter demanded a retraction from Mrs. Comstock of the statement that she was withholding funds. Mrs. Conners refused to make it. Then we passed a resolution demanding Mrs. Conners' resignation as Treasurer. She was only temporarily appointed, but she is holding on to the books. When the real Treasurer, Mrs. Ross, returned from Europe my daughter went to Mrs. Conners and asked her to turn over the books to Mrs. Ross. She refused. My daughter was in charge of the Exposition booth and had about $100 of the receipts. She was unwilling to give this money to Mrs. Conners, so she brought it home."

"She was willing to give it to Mrs. Ross, but Mrs. Ross did not have the books. I intended to tell her to go to the Westliche Post in this city," the Congressman said, "and he is now editor of the Baltimore Correspondent, a leading German paper."

Congressman Bartholdt remained at the Coroner's office throughout the inquest and was deeply interested.

Scarcely had the Congressman made his announcement when Lottie Porter of 13 North Ninth street set forth a claim for the body of her father, who was the husband of the deceased. She said she married Lottier two years ago at Belleville. Her maiden name was Maddox.

Lottier's friends were not aware that he had ever been married.

Congressman Bartholdt communicated with the dead man's father and was authorized to take charge of the funeral. The woman readily assented to the arrangement. She appeared to be sorely grieved and was happy to know that the body was to have proper attention.

The Coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

Edward Leys, father of the deceased, was a visitor of the Coroner's office and was 80's. He is widely known among the German population.

WITNESS DISAPPEARED.

INQUEST ON LULU CLARK COULD NOT BE FINISHED UNTIL FRANK REED TESTIFIED.

The inquest on the body of Lulu Clark, who was shot by John Daly on September 7, was begun by Coroner Walt Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, but was laid over until 2 o'clock the afternoon, when the absence of Frank Reed, one of the most important witnesses.

The evidence was contradictory and unsatisfactory. Four women, inmates of the houses adjoining that occupied by the victim, testified that on the night of the shooting Daly and Mrs. Clark quarreled and Clark had called Daly a "snitch" and an "unpaid copper."

Daly, they said, struck the woman twice with his fist outside the house and when she attempted to open the front screen door and get into the house he drew his revolver and shot her.

Four other witnesses, on the other hand, testified that while Daly and the woman were quarreling she struck him twice with a poker or iron pipe, and then cried out to Frank Reed, her lover, to "get the gun."

Reed, they said, came to the door with a revolver in his hand and Daly drew his pistol. There was a shot fired, but the witnesses professed to be unable to say who fired it.

Frank Reed was in the witness-room during a portion of the examination, but when called was missing. Patrolman O'Brien was sent out to look him up, but he was unable to find him, and much to Coroner's annoyance, he was compelled to postpone the inquest.

Daly was represented at the inquest by Arthur G. Reed. The prisoner was greatly agitated and seemed to be on the verge of a nervous collapse. He wept continually throughout the inquiry, and seemed to keep his eyes shut.

The trouble that resulted in the shooting of Lulu Clark originated in the fact that Mrs. Clark suspected that Daly had given the police the information on which King was arrested, and when she saw Daly she taxed him with it.
